ST. LOUIS COLLEGE.

Closing Examinations of the Schools by the Brothers.

The closing examinations of St. tions of the different classes were conducted in their respective rooms by the respective tutors. The examinations took place two weeks ahead of the regular time, owing to three of the brothers being called away to attend a teachers' convention at Dayton, Ohio, U. S. A. This sudden departure of three of the faculty has also necessitated the omission of the regular entertainment, which had become a feature of the school's breaking up.

When a Bulletin reporter arrived at the college this morning the George on horseback, slaying the scholars were as busy as bees. The dragon. In every room the same commendable peculiarity was noticed. In the first room upstairs, occupied by the third class, Bro. Martin was treating a number of spectators to recitations, dialogues and singing by his scholars. The young lads acquitted themselves well. The middle room scholars under Bro. Frank were unweaving grammatical entanglements. The boys' answers showed that they knew what they were talking about. Chin Bun and O. A number of people were conducted through the exhibition hall to inspect drawings, the work of the This school has excelled any other in the drawing department, and this year's work is no exception. The work of B. Apiki was specially admired. Besides drawings from nature there were also shown shaded drawings of locomotives and parts of locomotives.

There were also relief maps of Hawaii, Maui and Oahu exhibited on the walls. These were the work of the brothers and exhibited patient study on their part. The gullies, study on their part. The gullies, ed the following officers of Mystic Lodge, K. of P., for the ensuing islands were plainly outlined on the map. These maps would be of infito benefit to the Government. In Honolulu the different districts are marked and even the railway line is plainly visible through to the terminus. In Hawaii, where there are innumerable guiches and valleys, they are all discernible.

Human sacrifices were formerly made, and it is quite possible that in war time, cannibalism may have been practiced to a limited extent, but it is certainly news to learn that Hawaiian mothers made it a custom to fatten and eat their babes. Minister Damon, introducing his eport, spoke of the evident favor with which the public regarded the Government, if the financial pulse was to be depended upon as a guide. Not only did the public manifest confidence in the Government, but there seemed to be an increase of confidence in each other among business men. Last week $2000 of bonds had been sold, making the whole amount thus far over $50,000. In one day $25,000 was deposited in the Postal Savings Bank, which, as the bank was the people's and not the Government's, evinced a grati-fying degree of public confidence. The balance at the end of June showed an advance on that of the previous month, making a beginning of what he hoped to be able to call the reserve fund. He acknowledged the cordial assistance of Auditorthe Minister's and the general in-formation a statement of corporations, with nationality of stockholders, etc. In sugar plantations over $28,000,000 of corporate stock was invested, and in general enterprises ed. This showed a gain of $41,000 per annum under annexation. In conclusion Mr. Damon expressed his gratification at the harmony that now existed between the different departments. When he wanted certhe condition of things at the Leper | tain information in 1889, it caused quite a commotion in the departments. Now, however, he had only The same Minister read opinions to ask for any information required.

Minister Smith, as a result of discussions in executive council, moved a series of resolutions. The first was for a committee to report on disposition to be made of certain relics of royalty, including two gilded chairs specified as thrones. Carried.

Secondly, with regard to libraries, that the books loaned some time ago to the Honolulu Library and Reading Room Association be transferred absolutely to such Association by the Government.

President Dole remarked that some of the books required binding, and the Association did not care to undertake the expense when they did not own the books. Mr. Morgan could not support the resolution without knowing what and how many books there were. There should at least be a report of a committee on the subject. President Dole considered this a-reasonable point to be raised.

Minister Smith concurred, asking that the subject of the next resolution should also be referred to such committee. He read the next resolution, which was that the Government's curios loaned to the Bishop Museum be presented to that insti-Minister Damon wanted to know how far the Government could go in disposing of public property.

Mr. Brown had the same question occur to himself. This Government was for a certain object, and, if annex-ation was not obtained, whatever Government might succeed this one might hold them responsible. Could they give a good title? President Dole considered they had a right to dispose of the property in such manner as they deemed might best serve the public interests.

The resolutions were referred to committees as follows: 1st-Allen, Tenney and Ena. 2d and 3d-Morgan, Waterhouse 37,521 36 authority.

Minister Smith replied that two weeks ago yesterday the public peace came near being disturbed on the departure of a steamer. The Government band was playing as usual when the Hawaiian National band appeared on the scene and acted disorderly. In consequence he was consulted by the Marshal and had a conference with the Minister of the Interior, and had obtained his colleague's sanction to issue an order that the National band could not play on any public wharf without the consent of the Minister of the Interior. The order also included public squares or other places where the Government band was likely to play at the same time. Under date of June 29 the Minister of the Interior caused a letter (which he read) to be sent to the leader of the National band forbidding the band to play without the consent of the Minister of the Interior. It was not intended to interfere with the National band except to prevent Mr. Ena said the explanation eemed to be satisfactory. He had disturbances of the public peace. seemed to be satisfactory. He had understood that the band was not allowed to play at all.

President Dole said the action was taken with the approval of the Executive Council. The conduct of the National Band was highly improper in invading the territory occupied by another band filling a regular engagement. Minister Smith introduced a bill to amend the Judiciary Act of 1893, so as to remove the disability of District Magistrates, in their prohibition from practicing law. As the bill was a simple one he moved it be read a first time now. Carried. The bill to provide for a militia
